HAVE A DISH OF WATER LILLIES?

TONS OF FOOD GOING TO WASTE
IN ACRES OF THESE LILLIES
SAYS NORTH DAKOTA
HISTORIAN.

By the Associated Press
BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 9.—Tons of food lie peacefully undisturbed in the hundreds of acres of water lilies throughout the United States, according to Dr. Melvin C. Gilmore, curator of the North Dakota Historical Society, who is engaged in research work covering North America to determine the possibilities of native products.

As a result of the first stage of his inquiry, findings of which were published recently in the twenty-third annual report of the American Bureau of Ethnology, Dr. Gilmore declares development of America's wild plant life has been practically nil.

"In the three hundred years that the white man has dominated the western hemisphere," the scientist asserts, "he has not reduced to cultivation from wild stock a single natural species except to bring under semi-domestication the pecan and certain grapes of the East."

In connection with this assertion, Dr. Gilmore quotes the United States crop report for 1916 as giving a value of $2,000,000 to crops of this country alone grown from plants first brought under cultivation by the Indians.

He sees the greatest possibility for advancement in this direction in wild fruits, nuts and roots. An instance is found in the "Nelumbo" type of water lily flourishing largely in the ponds of the East and Central West. The seeds and the tubers of this species are good food, Dr. Gilmore declares, and make good stews when mixed with meat, particularly beef. Such stews were originally concocted by the Indians, as were many other dishes, which, it is said, could be economically adopted today.

"These uses of wild plants are no longer experimental," the investigator says. "We could have learned all about them from the Indians but we didn't go to them and inquire. I have spent a number of years among them trying to learn more of their habits of domestication, and mean to continue the work while the older of the tribesmen still live to hand down these lessons."

Cemetery Ass'n to Have Stand at The Carnival

The Chamber of Commerce generously tendered the Cemetery Association the hot drink and sandwich stand right during the Big Carnival at the City Hall next week, and the association accepted the same with appreciation.

There have been great improvements made by the association in the past and still greater ones are planned for this year. We have had the co-operation of the city council and the public at large for which we extend heart-felt thanks, and ask a continuation of public co-operation. This is everybody's work as nothing bespeaks more for a town than a beautiful cemetery and that is our aim. We have the location, now let's beautify it in accordance. We sincerely solicit the patronage of the business people for their evening meals during the carnival week. You will find courteous service and home-cooked meals. Let every citizen of the town help by your presence and praise, make this home carnival the biggest success ever. The Chamber of Commerce is striving for a greater Ada and the Cemetery Association is "bringing up the rear." Let us build perpetual monuments.

Sincerely,
CEMETERY ASS'N. COM.

BRYAN AND WILSON IN POLITICAL SPLIT

JACKSON DAY DINNER BRINGS
SURPRISE WHEN BRYAN
TAKES ISSUE WITH
PRESIDENT.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Wilson's decision that the league of nations issue should be placed before the voters as a "solemn referendum," and William Jennings Bryan's contention that the democratic party cannot go before the country on the question, but should accept such compromises "as may be possible," are the twin surprises of the conclave of party chieftains which found its climax last night in the annual Jackson Day dinner.

The president's message to the party, written from the sick room in the White House and read to the diners, made no mention of a third term for himself and no announcement of an intention to retire to private life, as many had predicted it would.

Mr. Bryan's speech, taking definite issue with the president's decision on the great question, was accompanied by a statement that he was not a candidate for the presidential nomination. Many of the democratic diners freely said that portion was a distinct surprise to them. Today the rank and file of the party, as well as the leaders throughout the country, are studying the opposite announcements of the two national leaders and are attempting to center their efforts on the party's fortunes at the nominating convention which will be held in San Francisco June 28 and at the polls next November.

Many political observers feel that it is yet too early to accurately estimate the position in which the cleavage between the president and the foremost democrat in private life leaves the party. They feel that the situation must settle down a little, that stock must be taken and that the opinions of the rank and file must be sounded.

Whether the position of the two men now definitely announced means a fight in the national convention reminiscent of the spectacular battle in Baltimore in 1912, when Mr. Bryan forced the president's nomination and reversed the practice of the party conventions in giving a nomination to a candidate who commanded a majority vote, none of the party leaders is willing to predict for publication.

HAMON CONTINGENT WINS FOURTH DISTRICT

That Hamon will control the republican convention at Shawnee next Friday is indicated strongly by reports from the county conventions over the fourth district held yesterday. Seventy three delegates out of a total of 108 are instructed for Hamon and it is understood that the ten uninstructed delegates from Seneca county are Hamon men.

The only fight of any importance in the entire district materialized in the Pottawatomie county convention at Tecumseh. After charges of bribery and intimidation had been made by both sides the Hamon men withdrew and both factions elected full delegations to the Shawnee convention. The Hamon men easily controlled the Creek county convention at Sapulpa and ran the steam roller over the McGraw men at Will.

ANOTHER ROUND-UP OF MAD DOGS—TO MAKE THE COUNTRY SAFE FOR TRUE AMERICANISM

OUTLAW'S BOAST PROVES UNDOING

MAN WHO DECLARED HE COULD
STICK UP BANK TRIES
TO MAKE GOOD
AND FAILS.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 9.—Pride goes before a fall, in the world of crime as elsewhere.

"I bet I could stick up a bank and get away with it," bragged Chester Clark, alias Leo Hartman, who wanted his acquaintance to know what a bold, bad desperado he could be.

The boast was made to fellow employees in a lumber yard here, where Clark was taking a sort of vacation from his crooked profession. Two days later, he drove up to the Union Park bank, stuck a gun under the cashier's nose, grabbed $1,050 off the counter and fled in his car.

His prideful remark was recalled and he was tracked, with the result that the woman he says is his wife, Mrs. Hartman, was nabbed the day after the robbery, $595 of the loot was recovered and Clark's capture was only a matter of days, according to the police.

Clark's criminal career started last July when he drew a term in the Oregon state penitentiary for bank robbery. Escaping while at work in the prison berry patch, he and Mrs. Hartman, together with another man, came to Spokane. Street car and store holdups followed in quick succession. Then he went to work in a lumber yard, where his criminal's vanity provided the clue that put officers on his track and landed Mrs. Hartman in the dragnet.

BIG QUAKE STRIKES TERROR IN MEXICO

SEVEN TOWNS OVERWHELMED
WITH WATER AS RESULT OF
LAST SATURDAY'S EARTH
SHAKE UP.

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—Seven towns near Teocelo, south of Jalapa, have been overwhelmed by the recent earth disturbances and a great lake is covering their former cities, according to a message received here this morning from Teocelo by way of Vera Cruz. Thirty-four bodies had been recovered when the message was filed at Teocelo.

By the Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—Intense excitement and panic rains among the inhabitants in the cities of Cordoba and Oirdeb in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz because of the opening of a new crater of the volcano of Orizaba, fifteen miles to the northward. The new crater is emitting smoke, according to information received last night at the offices of the presidential military staff from army officers in the earthquake district.

New advices tell of two hundred deaths near San Miguel and in the country districts near Cordoba, and it seems improbable that the final list of casualties will fall below the original estimate of two thousand, even if the reports of one thousand deaths at Couztlan were exaggerated.

District Court Will Convene on Next Monday

District court will meet in Ada next week to take up the civil docket. It is stated that the term will last two weeks. Nothing but civil matters will be taken up at this term and it is hoped that the civil docket may be cleared before the court adjourns finally.

The criminal docket will be taken up early in February. There are a number of important cases on the criminal docket and the term will doubtless be a laborious one. There will be a week's interregnum between the civil term and the criminal term in order to give the officials and attorneys a brief resting spell.

Saturday morning the general comes to Kansas City, arriving at 10 o'clock. The first man to shake hands with him as he steps from the train will be Robert J. Flick, who was a student at the University of Nebraska when General Pershing, then a lieutenant, was commandant of cadets at the university. A small committee, which will include Mayor James Cowgill of Kansas City, will go to Leavenworth to escort General Pershing to Kansas City.

A motor car parade through the downtown streets of Kansas City will follow General Pershing's arrival, after which the general will be the guest of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce at luncheon. He will attend receptions by the Women's City Club of Kansas City and at 2:30 o'clock will go to a public reception in Convention Hall here, where he will be given a gold sword, purchased by popular subscription.

General Pershing will be the dinner guest of the American Legion, and in the evening will attend a reception for ex-service men at Convention Hall, after which he will be the guest of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, of which organization he is honorary commander. BURNING AT HOLT, ARK. STILL IS A MYSTERY

By the Associated Press
OSCEOLA, Ark., Jan. 9.—Officers early today still were without a definite clue as to the identity of the men who Wednesday night looted the store at Holt near here, conducted by W. E. Hansel, and were responsible for the death of Hansel whose charred body was found in the ruins of the building. The position of Hansel's body gave rise at first to reports that he was tied to a post by the robbers and left helpless to burn to death. Later investigation, however, indicated that he either was killed by the robbers or was overcome by smoke when the building was set fire and was unable to escape.

Whether the fire was caused by the explosion when the door of the store was blown open, or the building set on fire by the men who committed the robbery, has not been definitely established. About $400 was taken from the safe.

INTEREST IN BIG CARNIVAL GROWS

THREE MORE CANDIDATES INTO
RACE FOR QUEEN WITH A
PROBABLE DOZEN OTHERS
TO COME.

The committee in charge of decoration and preparation for the big Chamber of Commerce carnival to be held all next week at the city hall are putting on the finishing touches today, and will have the work completed by tomorrow night.

Three more candidates are listed on the bulletin board as candidates for queen, namely, Misses Bonnie Mitchell, Ruby West and Eva Sparks. Miss Zorn entered the contest yesterday, making four in all who are already in the running.

A tent in the southwest corner of the hall is advertised as containing the "missing link," or the "eighth wonder of the world," but the committee would not divulge to a news reporter any information as to who is to be used in the tent. Some talk was abroad today that Bud Gregg would occupy the tent dressed in a lady's bathing suit and a red wig, but when interviewed this morning Mr. Gregg denied any knowledge of the part assigned to him.

It was just learned today that one of the features of one of the evening programs, date not yet announced, will be a socialist speech by State Senator Luther Harrison. It was thought at first that politics would be barred, but since the lid has been taken off in practically every other respect it was determined at the eleventh hour that anything goes. Few people are aware that Mr. Harrison has turned socialist and it is expected that many of his comrades from Seminole county will be present on that occasion, when it becomes known that he turned "red" when barbers raised shaves to twenty cents, and went body and breeches into the socialist camp.

The high ladder near the center of the hall is attracting a great deal of attention, and it was not known until a late hour today that Bill Coffman would, each night during the big show, dive from the ladder, a distance of twenty feet, into a tablespoonful of water.

There are many strangely arranged devices going up and it is hard, indeed, to get any adequate idea of what really will take place during the six days of fun, but it's a cinch that there will be plenty doing every moment during the hours the doors are open.

BOLSHEVIK FORCE IS SUCCESSFUL IN ASIA

EDUCATE YOURSELF.

Attention is called to an article in this issue of the News dealing with a proposed home reading course prepared by the United States Department of Education at Washington.

There are eleven home reading courses suggested by the commissioner of education who has just furnished copies to the Evening News. It is claimed that these courses embrace the cream of the literature of the world and will provide a general education if carefully read. The book-loving public, we believe, will appreciate the publication of the outline of these courses. There are eleven in all and beginning tomorrow we will publish one each day, or at least will publish them consecutively until all have appeared.

MARSHALL URGES OLD FASHIONED PARTY

By News' Special Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—A definite declaration that he is not a candidate for the democratic nomination for president was made by Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall in an interview in his apartment at the Hotel Astor. The vice-president stated that he was more interested in what the democratic party is going to stand for than in a candidate, and said he intended to use whatever influence he might have in the party for a return to the "old representative democracy," as distinguished from what he called the "new socialistic democracy."

Mr. Marshall said he was opposed to class legislation of any kind whether it was for the benefit of capital or labor, and expressed hope that he would not have to part company with his party on the question of the government ownership of railroads, to which he expressed opposition. He explained the circulation of petitions for him as a candidate for president in his home state of Indiana by saying that his friends there did not intend to permit some one of the candidates to get Indiana's 30 votes in the democratic national convention by default. Mr. Marshall said he wished Indiana's delegation to go uninstructed, and said in that event he would like to go as a delegate at large.

Will Release Indiana Delegates
Petitions for Mr. Marshall were circulated in Indiana immediately following the appearance of petitions for William G. McAdoo. Mr. Marshall said that the petitions for him would not be filed until the last day, and then only if petitions for other candidates were filed. He said that if his petitions were filed and he carried the Indiana primaries he would release the Indiana delegates.

"I am far more interested in the future course of the democratic party than I am in a candidate," said Mr. Marshall. "I have no personal ambition. I am not a candidate and do not want to be."

Mr. Marshall was asked what he would do if a demand for his candidacy should develop as a result of his advocacy of a return to the old principles of the democratic party.

"I am not contemplating the future, and I am truthful in saying that I am not seeking the nomination and don't want it."

Aside from my personal feeling there are two reasons why I hope this contingency will not arise. If I should be a candidate; one of two things would happen. I should be charged with seeking to use the principles I am advocating to get the support of men of like views, or there would be an effort to get me to compromise on my principles to get votes. I do not wish to do either."

Against Yielding to Classes
Mr. Marshall said that what he wanted was to have the federal government do what it was intended to do. "Constant yielding to special interests, the so-called classes, by a government inevitably produces friction and weakens the government," he said.

"Do you mean capitalistic or labor groups?" Mr. Marshall was asked.

"Both kinds," he replied. "They are scared to death at Washington by noisy minorities. The minorities buzz around and everybody gets frightened. Several years ago there was a bill to increase the salaries of rural mail carriers to $100 each year up to a certain point. In an effort to save money the senate wanted to make it every two years. The representatives of the Rural Mail Carriers association came to Washington and scared the life out of them. There have been other instances.

"I want to go to the convention at San Francisco to express the hope that we are not just going to topple things over and substitute a socialistic democracy for our ancient representative democracy. I don't mean that if the people want socialism they can't have it, but I do mean that before they do have it they must amend the constitution and submit it to the people."

Mr. Marshall said he was opposed to government ownership of railroads and "industrial democracy," both of which are championed by William J. Bryan.

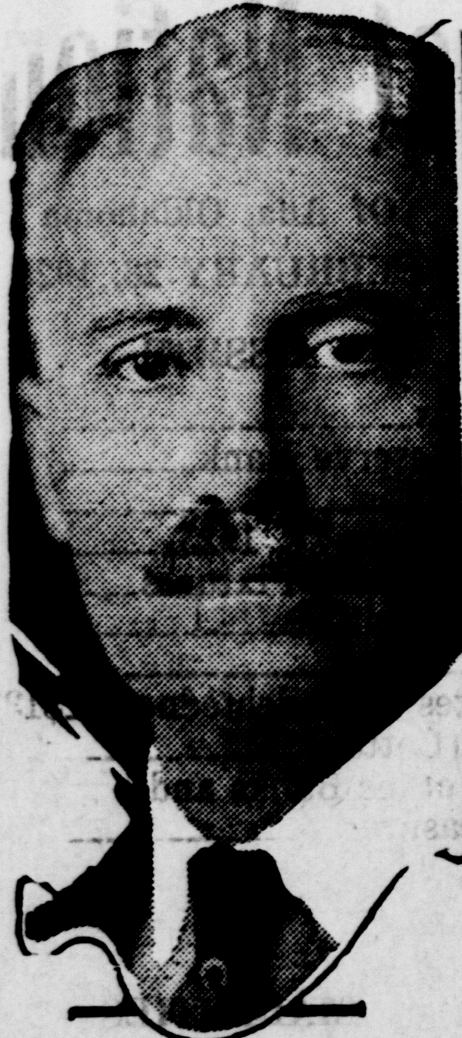

"If the people want to run the railroads let them amend the constitution," he said. "I will be against it all the while, but if they do it that way I don't know that I have any right to complain."

GERARD DEFENDS WILSON'S RECORD

FORMER AMBASSADOR TO GERMANIES SAYS THE PRESIDENT NEEDS NO "STALKING HORSE" IN DEBATE.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 3.—

James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Germany, and minority democratic candidate for nomination for president in the state primary March 23, met James O. Monroe of Chicago, independent democratic candidate for the nomination, in a debate as required by the state primary law. Answering an inference that he was a "stalking horse" for President Wilson, Mr. Gerard said he was "not a stalking horse for anyone," and that the president who "for eight years has made the democratic party one of achievement and brought down the greatest military power in the world," needs no "stalking horse." Mr. Gerard declared that war would have been prevented if Mr. William J. Bryan's peace treaty had been signed by the various countries. "I deplore the delay of the United States in acting on the peace treaty and accepting the league of nations."

"We must permit free speech," the former ambassador continued, "the New York representatives made a fatal mistake in attempting to throw out duly elected members of the state legislature. If people are not given the right to express their ideas through the ballot, they will do it with bullets."

He declared Germany must be restored and expressed regret that the railroads had been returned to private ownership, saying government control should have been given a long test under normal peace-time conditions.

The meeting had little appearance of a joint debate. Outlines of their issues were given by each speaker. A new taxation scheme was favored by Monroe. He was against the league of nations and urged the suppression of "the great combinations of capital."

THE RED CROSS STILL FUNCTIONS

MORE THAN THOUSAND TRAINED WORKERS STILL REMAIN IN THE FIELD ACTIVELY AT WORK.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Although American Red Cross relief work overseas is diminishing as rapidly as consistent with the obligations of humanity, more than 1,000 trained workers remain in the field, fighting disease and starvation in areas as yet unable to help themselves.

Officially summarizing the situation, Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Olds, Red Cross Commissioner for Europe, reported today to national headquarters here that aggressive and continuing relief measures still were demanded by widespread suffering in Poland, the Baltic states and south Russia. He expressed conviction that from now on the Russian problem would be a most vital one. All energy is being used to get relief to satisfactory bases in the Baltic and Black Seas regions, while the unit assigned to the Baltic states is being increased in personnel from 54 to 70. Steps are also being taken at Constantinople to organize further relief measures in behalf of the refugees of south Russia.

Of the total American personnel a large number are stationed in France, conducting headquarters operations, principally in connection with relief supplies and their transportation. The personnel attached to the various commissions operating under directions from Paris total as follows: France, 28; Albania, 65; Czechoslovakia, 3; Greece, 5; Italy, 29; Montenegro, 44; Poland, 131; Rumania, 29; Serbia, 96; West Russia, 54; South Russia, 25; England, 5; Vienna, 12.

An outline of how the American Red Cross is fulfilling its mission was given by Colonel Olds as follows:

"The character of the work in the Balkans is changing from emergency relief measures to medical service and assisting those peoples in erecting their own relief machinery. To meet the terrible crisis that has developed in Vienna, $1,200,000 worth of relief supplies has already been given. In Italy the work is confined to Red Cross Home Service in behalf of the families of men who served with the American army and Americans who served in the Italian army who are trying to return to this country."

"The most extensive work at present is that in Poland where, in cooperation with the League of Red Cross Societies, the American Red Cross is striving to check the spread of typhus and care for the penniless refugees that are pouring back into their homeland. To Czechoslovakia nurses are assigned to help establish a national nurse training system and assisted in distributing 130 carloads of relief supplies sent in by the American society last summer. Work for the French is still extensive but diminishing."

In addition to the major prospects there are nearly a score of activities conducted in behalf of the war-worn children of European countries by the Junior Red Cross, supported by the 14,000,000 American school children that are members.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Ada News. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores. adv.

Divorce Cases Multiplying in District Court

Three divorce cases were filed in district court yesterday afternoon, which was a fifty per cent lead over the marriage licenses issued yesterday.

Mrs. Gladys Coplin by her attorney W. A. DeLaney, filed suit for divorce from James E. Coplin. She alleges that she was married to defendant at Huntsville, Ala., April 18, 1917. That defendant failed and refused to support plaintiff and although she was in poor health she had to support herself by her own labors. That defendant continually flirted with other women and told plaintiff that he loved other women. Plaintiff asks for divorce, the costs of this action and the restoration of her maiden name of Gladys Pittman. Mrs. Minnie Anna May Estes asks for divorce from Arthur Estes. She is represented by B. H. Epperson. Plaintiff alleges that she married defendant at Denton, Texas, December 25, 1895. That of this marriage three children have been born. That defendant has been guilty of extreme cruelty to plaintiff, cursing and abusing her and applying opprobrious epithets to her. That he has in the presence of her children falsely accused her of unfaithfulness to him, to her great pain and humiliation. She asks for a divorce, the division of their property, $35 a month alimony, and $50 attorney's fee.

Mrs. Bertha Banks seeks a divorce from E. C. Banks. She states that she married defendant in Ada, May 11, 1918, and was deserted by defendant on March 5, 1919. That defendant has notified her that he never intends to live with her again.

Hereafter, all parties wanting livery service will find me at the Harris Hotel. Call either 126 or 506. W. F. Brown. 3-1-4t.

News Force Are Eaves Dropping With Wireless

Last night was the most enjoyable of all the nights to the boys of the Evening News. In spite of the wind that curried up concrete pavements and blew the cracks out of barbed-wire fences, and in spite of the cold that froze the bark off of black jacks, the printers and reporters spent half of one hilarious night in the News building and reached the high water mark of personal enjoyment.

A wireless telephone was the cause of it all. Ever since Powell West quit the American navy and resumed control of a linotype he has been dreaming of introducing a wireless telephone. At one time he had his plans all but completed, only to find that the patent laws prevented his scheme. Then he found an open avenue in the field of the wireless telephone. He accumulated his paraphernalia and when 8 o'clock struck last night he was able to press a button and hear about everything that was going on in the vicinity of Ada.

The high wind interfered but very little with the wireless plant located on top of the News building, while down below the "boys," congregated about a blazing heater and amid comfort and jokes and tobacco smoke seven times used they sat in on private conversations in every ward of Ada. It gave one a creepy sensation to listen in on the transaction of bootleggers a dozen blocks away. For the first hour or two of the wireless talker seemed to ignore everything but spooning parties and to the uninitiated it seemed as if every man in Ada was making love to some woman.

But discord crept into the amatory overtures and the passing hours introduced a medley of highly developed family rows. Trouble was listened in on about some of the most decorous homes in Ada, and citizens that have been known as paragons of domestic felicity were heard discoursing in language not learned in Sunday schools. A ridiculous feature of the evening's enjoyment was the strident voice of a local minister practicing his next Sunday's sermon while a couple of his neighbors were threatening to belabor each other with bed slats.

A secret political caucus down West Main was brought so near by the wireless that every word was heard easily and made a matter of record. A popular physician was heard trying to coax a truculent Ford out of a ditch near Main and Mississippi. A pair of lovers seated on the steps of the Normal building were heard to say at 11:15, "We had better go home—I believe it is going to turn cold." Over in the Southwest section a cultured young lady was overheard making what was probably her first attempt at a leap year proposal.

Altogether it was a happy evening for the "boys," and it is unnecessary to state that there will be a large attendance when the seance begins again tonight about 8 o'clock. It is the intention of the promoter of the local wireless to admit the public some evening in the near future and let them hear what really goes on in Ada when the people are not suspecting anything.

REALTY MEN PLAN TO ADVERTISE OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 4.—Plans to advertise throughout the United States the greatness of Oklahoma as an agricultural and livestock producing state will be made at a meeting of real estate men from all parts of the state to be held in Oklahoma City March 23 for which invitations were sent out yesterday by Ernest T. Bynum. The meeting is called, Bynum's letter said, at the suggestion of the state board of agriculture and upon the belief that the only requirements to attract to Oklahoma the citizenship and capital needed for development is the widespread advertising of the opportunities offered here.

"If the responses prove favorable," the invitation says, "steps may be taken to organize the established real estate men of the state into a permanent body." "The remarkable crop record of 1919 together with present favorable prospects for another such yield in 1920 make this a most propitious time for action as is here proposed," Bynum says. "Organizations of real estate men interested principally in farm realty have been formed recently in other states, notably Kansas and Ohio, and we can look forward to even greater advantages for ourselves. Not only the state board of agriculture but the railroads of the states have indicated a willingness to have representatives present and to co-operate fully in the movement."

The low price of Oklahoma land is pointed out in a bulletin sent with the invitation as an additional reason for advertising the state's opportunities. Government figures place the state as thirty-ninth in acre-price of average plow land, Missouri's average price for land is placed at $72 an acre, while Oklahoma's is by the wireless that every word was heard easily and made a matter of record. The acreage value of Oklahoma's twelve leading field crops, however, exceeds the acre-value of corresponding Missouri crops by $7.38 an acre.

HAVE A DISH OF WATER LILLIES? IN POLITICAL SPLIT

TONS OF FOOD GOING TO WASTE
IN ACRES OF THESE LILLIES
SAYS NORTH DAKOTA
HISTORIAN.

By the Associated Press
BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 9.—Tons of food lie peacefully undisturbed in the hundreds of acres of water lilies throughout the United States, according to Dr. Melvin C. Gilmore, curator of the North Dakota Historical Society, who is engaged in research work covering North America to determine the possibilities of native products.

As a result of the first stage of his inquiry, findings of which were published recently in the twenty-third annual report of the American Bureau of Ethnology, Dr. Gilmore declares development of America's wild plant life has been practically nil.

"In the three hundred years that the white man has dominated the western hemisphere," the scientist asserts, "he has not reduced to cultivation from wild stock a single natural species except to bring under semi-domestication the pecan and certain grapes of the East."

In connection with this assertion, Dr. Gilmore quotes the United States crop report for 1916 as giving a value of $3,000,000 to crops of this country alone grown from plants first brought under cultivation by the Indians.

He sees the greatest possibility for advancement in this direction in wild fruits, nuts and roots. An instance is found in the "Nelumbo" type of water lily flourishing largely in the ponds of the East and Central West. The seeds and the tubers of this species are good food, Dr. Gilmore declares, and make good stews when mixed with meat, particularly beef. Such stew was originally concocted by the Indians, as were many other dishes, which, it is said, could be economically adopted today.

"These uses of wild plants are no longer experimental," the investigator says. "We could have learned all about them from the Indians but we didn't go to them and inquire. I have spent a number of years among them, trying to learn more of their habits of domestication, and mean to continue the work while the older of the tribesmen still live to hand down these lessons."

Cemetery Ass'n to Have Stand at The Carnival

The Chamber of Commerce generously tendered the Cemetery Association the hot drink and sandwich stand right during the Big Carnival at the City Hall next week, and the association accepted the same with appreciation.

There have been great improvements made by the association in the past and still greater ones are planned for this year. We have had the co-operation of the city council and the public at large for which we extend heart-felt thanks, and ask a continuation of public co-operation. This is everybody's work as nothing speaks more for a town than a beautiful cemetery and that is our aim. We have the location, now let's beautify it in accordance. We sincerely solicit the patronage of the business people for their evening meals during the carnival week. You will find courteous service and home-cooked meals. Let every citizen of the town help by your presence and praise, make this home carnival the biggest success ever. The Chamber of Commerce is striving for a greater Ada and the Cemetery Association is "bringing up the rear."

Sincerely,

BRYAN AND WILSON SURPRISE WHEN BRYAN TAKES ISSUE WITH PRESIDENT.

JACKSON DAY DINNER BRINGS
SURPRISE WHEN BRYAN
TAKES ISSUE WITH
PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Wilson's decision that the league of nations issue should be placed before the voters as a "solemn referendum," and William Jennings Bryan's contention that the democratic party cannot go before the country on the question, but should accept such compromises "as may be possible," are the twin surprises of the conclave of party chieftains which found its climax last night in the annual Jackson Day dinner.

The president's message to the party, written from the sick room in the White House and read to the diners, made no mention of a third term for himself and no announcement of an intention to retire to private life, as many had predicted it would.

Mr. Bryan's speech, taking definite issue with the president's decision on the great question, was accompanied by a statement that he was not a candidate for the presidential nomination. Many of the democratic diners, freely said that portion was a distinct surprise to them. Today the rank and file of the party, as well as the leaders throughout the country, are studying the opposite announcements of the two national leaders and are attempting to center their efforts on the party's fortunes at the nominating convention which will be held in San Francisco June 28 and at the polls next November.

Many political observers feel that it is yet too early to accurately estimate the position in which the cleavage between the president and the foremost democrat in private life leaves the party. They feel that the situation must settle down a little, that stock must be taken and that the opinions of the rank and file must be sounded.

Whether the position of the two men now definitely announced means a fight in the national convention reminiscent of the spectacular battle in Baltimore in 1912, when Mr. Bryan forced the president's nomination and reversed the practice of the party conventions in giving a nomination to a candidate who commanded a majority vote, none of the party leaders is willing to predict for publication.

HAMON CONTINGENT WINS FOURTH DISTRICT

That Hamon will control the republican convention at Shawnee next Friday is indicated strongly by reports from the county conventions over the fourth district held yesterday. Seventy-three delegates out of a total of 108 are instructed for Hamon and it is understood that the ten uninstructed delegates from Seminole county are Hamon men.

The only fight of any importance in the entire district materialized in the Pottawatomie county convention at Tecumseh. After charges of bribery and intimidation had been made by both sides the Hamon men withdrew and both factions elected full delegations to the Shawnee convention. The Hamon men easily controlled the Creek county convention at Sapulpa and ran the steam roller over the McGraw men at Will.

OUTLAW'S BOAST PROVES UNDOING

MAN WHO DECLARED HE COULD
STICK UP BANK TREASURES
TO MAKE GOOD
AND FAILS.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 9.—Pride goes before a fall, in the world of crime as elsewhere.

"I bet I could stick up a bank and get away with it," bragged Chester Clark, alias Leo Hartman, who wanted his acquaintance to know what a bold, bad desperado he could be.

The boast was made to fellow employees in a lumber yard here, where Clark was taking a sort of vacation from his crooked profession. Two days later, he drove up to the Union Park bank, stuck a gun under the cashier's nose, grabbed $1,050 off the counter and fled in his car.

His prideful remark was recalled and he was tracked, with the result that the woman he says is his wife, Mrs. Hartman, was nabbed the day after the robbery. $355 of the loot was recovered and Clark's capture is only a matter of days, according to the police.

Clark's criminal career started last July when he drew a term in the Oregon state penitentiary for bank robbery. Escaping while at work in the prison berry patch, he and Mrs. Hartman, together with another man, came to Spokane. Sweet car and store holdups followed in quick succession. Then he went to work in a lumber yard, where his criminal's vanity provided the clue that put officers on his track and landed Mrs. Hartman in the dragnet.

BIG QUAKE STRIKES TERROR IN MEXICO

SEVEN TOWNS OVERWHELMED
WITH WATER AS RESULT OF
LAST SATURDAY'S EARTH
SHAKE UP.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—Seven towns near Teocelo, south of Jalapa, have been overwhelmed by the recent earth disturbances and a great lake is covering their former cities, according to a message received here this morning from Teocelo by way of Vera Cruz. Thirty-four bodies had been recovered when the message was filed at Teocelo.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 9.—Intense excitement and panic rains among the inhabitants in the cities of Cordoba and Ordebe in the western part of the state of Vera Cruz because of the opening of a new crater of the volcano of Orizaba, fifteen miles to the northward. The new crater is emitting smoke, according to information received last night at the offices of the presidential military staff from army officers in the earthquake district.

New advices tell of two hundred deaths near San Miguel and in the country districts near Cordoba, and it seems improbable that the final list of casualties will fall below the original estimate of two thousand, even if the reports of one thousand deaths at Coztlan were exaggerated.

District Court Will Convene on Next Monday

District court will meet in Ada next week to take up the civil docket. It is stated that the term will last two weeks. Nothing but civil matters will be taken up at this term and it is hoped that the civil docket may be cleared before the court adjourns finally.

The criminal docket will be taken up early in February. There are a number of important cases on the criminal docket and the term will doubtless be a laborious one. There will be a week's interregnum between the civil term and the criminal term in order to give the officials and attorneys a brief resting spell.

GENERAL PERSHING BEING ENTERTAINED

NEXT FEW DAYS TO BE BUSY
ONES FOR THE GENERAL
IN THE WAY OF RECEPTIONS.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Gen. John J. Pershing will inspect three army posts, receive a pair of silver spurs and a gold sword, attend a number of public receptions and one dance in his honor and be a dinner and luncheon guest several times between Friday, January 9, and Monday, January 12.

The general's itinerary takes him to Fort Leavenworth, Kans., Friday, where he will inspect the post and the service schools. He also will attend a public reception given in his honor at the courthouse in the city of Leavenworth, where he will be given a pair of silver spurs. Friday night he will be guest of honor at a "hop" given by army officers at Fort Leavenworth.

Saturday morning the general comes to Kansas City, arriving at 10 o'clock. The first man to shake hands with him as he steps from the train will be Robert J. Flick, who was a student at the University of Nebraska when General Pershing, then a lieutenant, was commandant of cadets at the university. A small committee, which will include Mayor James Cowgill of Kansas City, will go to Leavenworth to escort General Pershing to Kansas City.

A motor car parade through the downtown streets of Kansas City will follow General Pershing's arrival, after which the general will be the guest of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce at luncheon. He will attend receptions by the Women's City Club of Kansas City and at 2:30 o'clock will go to a public reception in Convention Hall here, where he will be given a gold sword, purchased by popular subscription.

The reception will be held in Junction City's community house and a community chorus and the high school orchestra plans to furnish music.

Monday General Pershing will inspect the two military establishments on the Fort Riley reservation and Monday noon he will be the luncheon guest of the Rotary Club of Junction City.

BURNING AT HOLT, ARK. STILL IS A MYSTERY

OSCEOLA, Ark., Jan. 9.—Officers early today still were without a definite clue as to the identity of the men who Wednesday night looted the store at Holt near here, conducted by W. E. Hinsel, and were responsible for the death of Hinsel whose charred body was found in the ruins of the building.

The position of Hinsel's body gave rise at first to reports that he was tied to a post by the robbers and left helpless to burn to death. Later investigation, however, indicated that he either was killed by the robbers or was overcome by smoke when the building was set fire and was unable to escape.

Whether the fire was caused by the explosion when the door of the store was blown open, or the building set on fire by the men who committed the robbery, has not been definitely established. About $400 was taken from the safe.

Cotton Ginning Report.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Cotton ginned prior to January 1 amounted to 10,017,89 running bales including 110,373 round bales, 33,147 bales of American-Egyptian and 5,710 of Sea Island, the census bureau announced today.

RACE FOR QUEEN WITH A
PROBABLE DOZEN OTHERS
TO COME.

The committee in charge of decoration and preparation for the big Chamber of Commerce carnival to be held all next week at the city hall are putting on the finishing touches today, and will have the work completed by tomorrow night. Three more candidates are listed on the bulletin board as candidates for queen, namely, Misses Bonnie Mitchell, Ruby West and Eva Sparks. Miss Zorn entered the contest yesterday, making four in all who are already in the running.

A tent in the southwest corner of the hall is advertised as containing the "missing link," or the "eighth wonder of the world," but the committee would not divulge to a News reporter any information as to who is to be used in the tent. Some talk was abroad today that Bud Gregg would occupy the tent dressed in a lady's bathing suit and a red wig, but when interviewed this morning Mr. Gregg denied any knowledge of the part assigned to him.

It was just learned today that one of the features of one of the evening programs, date not yet announced, will be a socialist speech by State Senator Luther Harrison. It was thought at first that politics would be barred, but since the lid has been taken off in practically every other respect it was determined at the eleventh hour that anything goes. Few people are aware that Mr. Harrison has turned socialist and it is expected that many of his comrades from Seminole county will be present on that occasion, when it becomes known that he turned "red" when barbers raised shaves to twenty cents, and went body and breeches into the socialist camp.

The high ladder near the center of the hall is attracting a great deal of attention, and it was not known until a late hour today that Bill Coffman would, each night during the big show, dive from the ladder, a distance of twenty feet, into a tablespoonful of water.

There are many strangely arranged devices going up and it is hard, indeed, to get any adequate idea of what really will take place during the six days of fun, but it's a cinch that there will be plenty doing every moment during the hours the doors are open.

BOLSHEVİK FORCE IS SUCCESSFUL IN ASIA

LONDON, Thursday, Jan. 8.—

The city of Bokhara, capital of the Khanate of Bokara in central Asia, less than 200 miles from Afghanistan frontier, has been entered by Bolshevik forces, according to war office reports. Further word has been received that soviet troops have occupied Krawnovodsk on the eastern shore of the Caspian Sea, it is claimed in reports from Moscow.

Direct railway communication between Trans-Caspia and European Russia has been secured by the Reds who will be able to concentrate important bodies of troops in Turkistan with a view of carrying out far-reaching plans westward towards the Caspian region and eastward toward Persia, it is said.

EDUCATE YOURSELF.

Attention is called to an article in this issue of the News dealing with a proposed home reading course prepared by the United States Department of Education at Washington. There are eleven home reading courses suggested by the commissioner of education who has just furnished copies to the Evening News. It is claimed that these courses embrace the cream of the literature of the world and will provide a general education if carefully read. The book-loving public, we believe, will appreciate the publication of the outline of these courses. There are eleven in all and beginning tomorrow we will publish one each day, or at least will publish them consecutively until all have appeared.

Greatest Books of All Ages And Races Are Included in Govt. Reading Circle Courses

Home Education Division, Bureau of Education, Outlines Reading Courses Ranging From "The World's Great Literary Bibles" to "Thirty Books of Great Fiction" and Courses on Seamanship and Vocational Subjects

BOOKS that came out of the hearts and minds of the people—for whom their authors were only spokesmen—are today speaking once more to the hearts and minds of the people of America.

Human books that take firm hold on human life—broad-minded books that are a heritage from the greatest literature of all ages and all races, translated into "vigorous English"—books whose authors saw life steadily and saw it whole, are today the trusted comrades and the daily companions of men and women, boys and girls, throughout the United States and its territorial possessions, as, through the medium of the national reading circle of the Bureau of Education, thousands of Americans have enrolled their names pledged to complete one or more of the reading courses outlined by the Home Education Division of the United States Bureau of Education.

The national reading circle was formed to answer the needs of old and young, who have long wished for some guide in their reading and who have needed some inspiration to continue a course after having commenced it.

Such inspiration is provided in the awarding of a certificate bearing the seal of the United States Bureau of Education, which is given to each person who offers satisfactory evidence of having read all the books in the list of any one of the courses submitted.

The courses arranged for the national reading circle include:

- 1.—The World's Great Literary Bibles.
- 2.—Great Literature: Ancient, Medieval, and Modern.
- 3.—Reading Course for Parents.
- 4.—Miscellaneous Course for Boys.
- 5.—Miscellaneous Course for Girls.
- 6.—Thirty Books of Great Fiction.
- 7.—Thirty World Heroes.
- 8.—American Literature.
- 9.—Thirty American Heroes.
- 10.—American History.
- 11.—France and Her History.
- 12.—After War Reading Courses.

About thirty courses on vocational subjects are now being prepared with the co-operation and advice of experts and librarians. Among them are courses on machine-shop work, ship-building, seamanship, and iron and steel.

Specialists Assist. In the preparation of the courses of literature the bureau has called to its aid specialists in every subject, such men as Prof. William Lyon Phelps, of Yale University; Prof. Richard Burton, of the University of Minnesota; Prof. C. Alphonso Smith, of Virginia; and Prof. Charles Smith, of the University of Wisconsin.

For the course in history, Prof. Myers, of Princeton University; Prof. Mace, of Syracuse; Prof. Riley, of Virginia; and Dr. Gordy gave valuable assistance.

Prof. Kelley, of Harvard; J. D. McBride, of the United States Shipping Board; and Lieut. Commander A. W. Carmichael, of the Transportation Service, have aided in the preparation of the vocational courses.

"The Call of Blue Waters," a reading course on seamanship, navigation, and marine engineering, for men in the service and in the merchant marine, is intended to promote a spirit of love for the sea in the hearts of young America.

Tyre's True Heirs. Tyre has had but seven heirs, and the United States is one of them. Naturally a maritime people, with magnificent harbors, America has forgotten her heritage. The American flag, until 1918, was a curiosity in foreign waters. But one year has wrought a miracle. "The Call of Blue Waters" is but one of thirty courses of vocational subjects now being prepared with the co-operation and advice of experts and librarians.

For the past six years the bureau has fostered this project in home education, which includes not only the welfare of little children in the home, but has for its object the continued education of parents and the furthering of the education of the boys and girls who have been obliged to leave school prematurely or otherwise.

Run Down?

Kidney and bladder troubles are not limited to men. Housework, or work in office or factory, causes women to suffer from weak, overworked or diseased kidneys. The symptoms are—puffiness under the eyes, yellow skin, constant tired feeling, lack of ambition, nervous condition, backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints.

Foley Kidney Pills

get right at the cause of suffering and misery, regulate the kidneys and bladder and restore the diseased organs to sound and healthy condition.

Mrs. Wm. Fischer, 2009 Woodbourne Ave., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I am just getting along. I am taking Foley Kidney Pills every other night. You should have seen me before I started I was yellow as gold, now my eyes and skin are clear. My kidneys do not bother me at all any more. If it will help some other poor soul who is suffering you may use my name wherever your medicine is advertised."

with sometimes as many as 150 present. But all this is not to have anything in the way of amusement but, to study seriously ways and means of becoming better mothers."

A lad in Montana, seeking expert advice in the matter of reading courses, has written the Home Education Division of the Bureau of Education, saying: "I live 95 miles from the railroad, and nine miles from school. I have gone to school two months before this year because I wanted to get some lambs by which to get a start to finish my school."

A Mother Speaks. From Colorado, a mother writes: "We are glad that the government has an interest in the proper training of its children as well as its hogs, as it has previously assumed that anybody could raise a child, but they should have expert advice in the care of the stock. As we are in an isolated community, 12 miles from a doctor and three miles from a telephone, please give us all the help your department can. We have two little girls."

A Nebraska man writes: "Some of the boys who have finished the eighth grade would like to do some studying this winter. Also some of the parents."

The courses suggested by the Bureau of Education are so devised as to meet the needs of all ages. There is a course that appeals to the college-bred man or woman, who wishes to supplement his or her training. There is a course for the mother and home-maker, for the boy and girl, for the professional man, for the girl who had to leave school early, for the men and women who desire to follow a definite course of study in the leisure of the winter days.

Suggestions From Commissioners. Books listed in the various reading courses may be purchased from publishers or borrowed from libraries. The Bureau of Education does not furnish or lend books. In referring to the courses of the home reading circle, the Commissioner of Education says: "Read first for pleasure, look up necessary references, and make brief notes sufficient to be able to make a summary later."

"You will find it helpful to form a reading circle, by asking others in your community to take the course. Members of the circle may then talk the books over together." "Readers may take one or more courses. They are required to read Course 1 twice during the three years succeeding enrollment. Any other courses are to be read but once. No reading done previous to the date of enrollment will be considered adequate. A certificate will be given for each course completed."

Advise the Home Education Division, of which Miss Ellen C. Lombard is director, when each book is begun and when it is completed. Programs of each course, giving detailed information and list of books included in the course, will be sent upon application to the Home Education Division, Bureau of Education, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

FRIENDS NOTED HOW MUCH SHE IMPROVED

"When my friends tell me how much I have improved in health and appearance I always say I owe it all to Tanlac," said Mrs. Margaret Norman, of 2 Dale Avenue, Oklahoma City, Okla.

"Several years ago," she continued, "I had an attack of nervous prostration, and afterwards I would suffer with cramps in my stomach after eating. I had palpitations of the heart and shortness of breath so bad that I would actually become unconscious at times and I would have such terrible headaches that I could hardly endure them. I became so weak that I was unable to attend to my household duties and everything was a burden to me."

"Nothing seemed to help me at all until I began taking Tanlac on the advice of a friend. Then all my headaches left me the first week and my stomach trouble was soon relieved. Now I can eat anything I want without its being followed with palpitations, headaches or sick spells. My nerves are in fine shape and I sleep well at night. I have gained several pounds in weight, my strength and energy are returning and I actually feel better than I have in five years. My husband has been taking Tanlac, too, and he thinks as highly of the medicine as I do."

OKLAHOMA CITY POOR SUFFER FROM CROWDING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 9.—Pitiful conditions in Oklahoma City's slum district were reported by census enumerators yesterday.

Reports of large families living in barns, sheds and garages with canvas doors, and rags stuffed in windows to keep the snow and cold out were made by several of the enumerators who worked in the slum sections.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow skin, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 10c and 25c.

barns and sheds than in the little homes facing the streets, according to stories told W. F. Sorrells, assistant census supervisor. In these barns and sheds groups of small children were huddled about rickety stoves fighting a losing fight with the cold. The contrast between slum conditions and those in other sections was sharp to those who have been working in the better residential districts.

Congested conditions with white persons and Mexicans living together were reported in the larger houses and rooming houses in those sections. In two houses, sixty-nine persons, consisting of forty whites and twenty-nine Mexicans were living. Rooms were divided into living apartments and in some instances two or three families lived in one room.

It was hard work for the enumerators to get information in many of these barns, sheds and crowded rooming houses.

In one case one of the enumerators furnished chewing gum to eight small children while she questioned the parents for the information desired.

Oklahoma City should make a move for better housing conditions for its poor, one enumerator said after spending the day in hovels and inhabited hay lofts.

How One Letter Brought Settlers To Wichita, Kans.

By the Associated Press

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 9.—The first letter brought to the present city of Wichita resulted in the immigration to Kansas of eighteen young men from Switzerland, according to Adrian Sauter of this city, who was one of the immigrants. It is recalled the first letter was brought by a stage mail carrier back in 1869, addressed to Earl Wichern, then located at McLean's cow camp, near the present site of Clearwater.

"Charles Cramer of Geneva, Switzerland, wrote to Wichern who had come to America after the war between Prussia and Austria in 1866-67, inquiring of the prospects in the Great West," related Mr. Sauter. "The reply being favorable, Cramer came at once and

NEGLECTING THAT COLD OR COUGH?

Why, when Dr. King's New Discovery so promptly checks it

It's natural you don't want to be careless and let that old cold or cough drag on or that new attack develop seriously. Not when you can get such a proved successful remedy as Dr. King's New Discovery.

Cold, cough, grippe, croup does not resist this standard reliever very long. Its quality is as high today as it always has been—and it's been growing steadily in popularity for more than fifty years. 50c and $1.20 a bottle at all druggists. Give it a trial.

Constipated? Here's Relief

Not that often harmful, always violent and temporary help that comes from harsh purgatives, but the comfortable, gratifying, corrective regulation of stubborn bowels so pronounced in Dr. King's New Life Pills.

Tonic in action, they promote free bile flow, stir up the lazy, thoroughly but gently cleanse the system of waste matter and fermenting foods, and give you a keen zest for hard work and healthful recreation. All druggists—25c.

many of our friends and neighbors were induced to follow. Eighteen of us young men, French-Swiss from the cantons of Geneva and Vaud, settled on sixteen quarter sections of land in Sumner county in Illinois and London townships.

"Of the original eighteen, Mr. Sauter said, only one still remains on the land originally homesteaded by the colony and he now possesses three-quarters of a section.

"As most of us were unaccustomed to a farmer's life and the hardships that befell frontier settlers, it was not long before our castles began to fall," Mr. Sauter said. "Our ranks became decimated. Some went back to the native land, eight have gone to their last pre-emption and others are scattered over the United States."

THE FRUITS OF THE LEADERS

The little bunch of wilful men who started out to discredit President Wilson and who have so nearly succeeded doubtless congratulate themselves when viewing their handiwork. A year ago Wilson was the unchallenged leader of the nation. Today a baker's dozen of senators claim the leadership of the American people. And the test of superiority in leadership is a comparison of conditions as we found them a year ago with conditions as we find them today.

When Woodrow Wilson was the leader of his people, they were a united and an untroubled people. Never in the history of the republic did national consciousness so assert itself as it did during the days of war and the few months immediately following the war. We were a united people. We were in the main a contented people. Those who sympathized with Germany or our other enemies were silent. Never before had the people manifested such a genuine loyalty to the government or such genuine respect for the law.

During the days of Wilson's unquestioned leadership America was the leader of the world. All nations lifted their hats to the Republic that had dared to arm and fight for an ideal. This nation was universally admired, respected, and followed. Uncounted millions of people recently freed from the oppression of tyrants looked to the United States as the political saviour of the world. There was no nation and no people under the sun that did not respect the American government and pay homage to the nation's flag.

When the soldiers returned from Europe they were acclaimed as crusaders who had crossed dangerous seas to carry the blessing of freedom to the down-trodden races of men. A soldier's uniform was an object of honor—almost of worship. Nowhere in America could one be found who would insult the army or denounce the uniform a soldier wore. National consciousness ruled the thought of the people.

Then came the deluge. Cold blooded politicians planned the downfall of a nation's president in order to vent their personal spleen or to enhance a party's interest. Men like Reed forgot a world that was prostrate in sack cloth and ashes to avenge himself on a president who had refused to appoint a political ward heeler postmaster at Kansas City. Men like Lodge fought a peace agreement among nations for fear it would rebound to the credit of the party in power. They have at least temporarily taken the national leadership from a man who had made his country the moral leader of the world. And the effect of their leadership is seen far and wide.

Our people are no longer united. Discord has taken the place of harmony. Division and dissension have gained the upper hand. National consciousness is at the lowest ebb today it has reached since the early sixties. Service men are daily denounced by disloyalists in the great cities of the country. The uniform has lost its appeal to tens of thousands of citizens who have been taught by demagogues to believe that the public was double crossed when the nation went to war. Continued criticism has lead millions to believe that we won nothing by the war, and that the whole proceeding was a welter of extravagance and failure. Not a single high official who served his country in the day of peril has escaped the libel of partisans and few such officials have escaped the implied indictment of investigation.

The government is denounced today by men like Berger, who advocate the destruction of the government, and men like Lodge, who apparently are willing that the government be impaled if only a party may reap advantage from that peril. Senators make speeches in the senate for which men are serving prison sentences for making in the streets. And from the four quarters of America comes the reports of Red activity and the spread of the gospel of revolution. The perils of war are not to be compared to the perils confronting the United States in the days of peace.

Such is the handiwork of the new leaders. By their fruits shall they be known. They have murdered a nation's idealism. They have strangled national consciousness. They have scattered the seeds of discord with a lavish hand. They have won for America the contempt of every free people. We are branded today as a nation of quitters and slackers and welkers in every capital on earth. They have encouraged sedition and arson and assassination. They have made a moral bankrupt of a nation that only fourteen months ago was wildly cheered in every village where liberty has a champion or patriotism a friend.

The shameful story of national degradation is not one for argument or demonstration. If you doubt the truth of the indictment, compare our condition with that existing when the leadership of Woodrow Wilson was unchallenged.

When is a law not a law? Apparently when it forbids gambling. Last night an unwashed mob of hoodlums assembled at the city hall and for an hour ignored every statute forbidding gambling. Hundreds of dollars openly changed hands on the result of a dog and badger fight. Everyone seemed to be betting and the shame of it all is that the fight was staged at the city hall just over the police court and city jail and next door to the mayor's office. No effort was made by the police to interfere with the disgraceful affair. We understand that another such fight is scheduled to be pulled off at the same identical place. Why is a policeman anyway?

If a certain horse-faced former president named Jackson could have heard some of the demagogic back-wash issued at Washington Thursday night under the label of "Jacksonian Democracy", he would have turned over in his grave and grasped those yellow handled derringers that figured so prominently in the early political history of Tennessee.

Who said the senate is slow? It is only 182 days since the treaty was submitted to the senate and sufficient progress has already been made to justify the prediction that the treaty will undoubtedly be disposed of during 1920.

When the roads are so bad that people cannot get to a good roads convention it is time to stop talking about roads and begin to build roads.

National prohibition is going to put a great burden on these brilliant Americans who "could amount to so much if they would only let whiskey alone."

Dere Ed:

I sen in yore paper that the so-shulists of N. Y. what has violated this constitushun of ourn and has had there representatives in the state legislature bounced is a threatenin to co-operate with the labor unions and git there seats back whether they is entitled to them or not. In others words they is advocatin that mite is rite which is pure d humism and is nowhere to be found in the new rule books.

Aint it awful Ed how organized labor unions is gettin to be the single and only consoler of the seemin wrongs done to most anybody these days. It puts me in mind of the old woman what lived in a shoe who had many troubles she didn't know what to do. Even at that I guess the shoe was rented cause they is too high priced to own these days. But them kids was always runnin to that old woman with there troubles and she shown em all sympathy and a pettin em and they wasnt a one of them kids a tryin to take up fir hisself or assert his own individual rites or set on his own bottom like a tub soda speck. That pore old woman had her own troubles and at 1 and the same time was shoulderin all the troubles of them kids.

And so it is with labor Ed. Did you ever see nothin like it. Everything, everybody and ever cause is tryin to make union labor there old mother fur to fite there battles and rite there rongs. Whether all them kids what lived in that old shoe was born or not I don't writ but I kinder got an idee she had some in the shoe what wasnt hern and she was a only givin em her love and protection as long as they was good kids and then too I speck most any homeless youngster could slip in there and put up on her cause she had so many troubles that a addishun to the family wouldnt be noticed none until they said addishun raised so mutch billie hell that her attentshun was forthwith and immediately called to the fact that said outsider was residin therein legally speakin.

Now organized labor is a descendant of old man U. S. Constitushun and therefore comes from a good family but some of them kids she has is shore somebody elses orphans cause they dont show none of her tendencies at all. Of course as long as they is good nobudy aint got no kick comin but look what sum of em is doin. There is the radicals, the I. W. W. the communists an sum of the local unions of Chicago, but you cant blame these last mutch cause they is influenced Mayor Thompson and then along comes the so-shulists and runs to organized labor and tries to hide behind her skirts or else influence her to fite fer them.

Now when a adopted kid runs wild and disgraces its foster parent what has tried to keep it strate and has taut it better, its time fer thet there kid to be showin the door to seek a home in other climes or else the nabors will lay all the blame on the mother and the hole durn family will get in bad and, no excepshuns made.

But what I started out to say all the time Ed was to ask you how long is labor goin to be the guardian angel of worthless and unscrupulous kids like the above named and always be the goat fer there rongs. Between just you and me Ed I think its about time fer a house cleanin and old lady labor had better do a good job or all the nabors will be off her for life.

Hopin you are the same, I am,
Yours trulle,
JOSE

HIS FIRST BORN

Lucius Maxey is a faithful Pa. And the swiftest man you ever saw To run an errand at middle of night, When the slush and mud is just a sight.

His overcoat was awfully short, The kind few men are able to sport, His pajamas were so very thin That cold would have frozen most of men.

With no socks on and shoes untied He hastened on with fatherly pride, But you should have heard him swear When he tangled up in an old guy wire.

On returning home he was on the job And just in time to hear the baby sob. To help the nurse some oil to heat He spilled the stuff all over his feet.

He had it so hot it set him wild, "I'm glad it's me and not the child," Said he as he dropped the cork And spilled a bottle of paregoric.

Finally quiesed, Lucius fell asleep, But the baby awoke and began to weep. He was soon aroused by the call of wife— And said, "Oh heck—but such is life."

Accomplishing Most Wonderful Results.

"I want to thank you for your wonderful oil," writes Mr. J. C. Gibson of Jonesboro, Ark. "My little girl was very low with diphtheria. I had given her two doses of medicine which cost me $10 with no results. I bought a 35c bottle of your oil and one application relieved her. Now she is well. It is the greatest remedy I ever saw." Mr. Gibson made this statement before hundreds of people. Mrs. Florence Neager, 224 Whitney street, Hartford, Conn., writes: "I have used your Antiseptic Oil for neuralgia with good effects. Only one thing I have ever tried that stopped the pain immediately." Mrs. Williams, Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I have used your great pain oil for rheumatism, stiff joints, also for sore throat and I want to say that it is the greatest remedy I ever tried. I recommend it to all sufferers." Many cures reported daily from thousands of grateful users of this wonderful oil. Badger Fight at City Hall Last Night Furious

The badger fight at the city hall last night resulted in a victory for "Ned" Waits, the big pointer dog belonging to M. A. Waits, according to the official referee. But it was a close fight and for about twelve minutes it was anybody's fight. The badger had Ned going several times during the combat and fought furiously to the close. Ned was pretty badly cut up, but showed his usual grit, and fought it through without a whimper. This is his fifth victory in badger contests.

There was considerable confusion just before the fight started, and it looked several times as if there might be a mix-up among the champions of the dog and badger, respectively. Mr. Waits was not easily pleased with the man selected to hold the dog and objected strenuously to the manager of the badger. Roane Sugg was finally chosen to hold the dog, but several selections to hold the badger were ruled out because of the fact that they had money upon the result and were considered unfair for that reason. J. M. Colman volunteered to pull the badger out of the cage and was very much disappointed when ruled out. H. Scott Tucker of Liverpool, England, who is buying cotton in Ada at the present time, finally offered to settle the squabble by pulling the badger and was agreed to by the various interested parties. Mr. Tucker was busy the rest of the evening receiving congratulations of his friends on the fair and energetic manner in which he drew the badger from the cage. He afterwards stated that this was the first badger fight he ever saw, that they never have such contests in England.

L. of J. BOYS ENTERTAINED AT M. L. PERKINS HOME

One of the many happy meetings of the L. of J. was a party on January 8, given by Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Perkins in honor of their son's twelfth birthday. January 8 was also the birthday of the L. of J., for it was at a jolly party of Carl's one year ago that the first hike of the boys was made and from that week on every Monday afternoon the lads have found themselves, with Brother Dunn as their leader either in the church or on a hike, weenie roast or swim.

At this particular meeting the lads took advantage of the first real coating weather to try out the "Normal Heights." After the sledding was over the gifts were opened, then there were games, refreshments, stories and the comradeship which all hearty fun-loving boys enjoy.

The lads are learning to love the Bibles better than many who are older in years. It is the old book that is the salt that will keep young boys sweet and pure. It is our duty to keep them going straight now, rather than try to straighten them after they have grown crooked. May there be many more like organizations.

Joints that ache, muscles that are drawn or contracted should be treated with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It penetrates to the spot where it is needed and relieves suffering. Sold by Bart Smith. adv

Here Is How the H. C. of L. Will Get You This Year

NEW YORK—Here is what the public may expect for 1920 in the way of high cost of living, predicted on a canvass of wholesalers yesterday:

SHOES—Prices steadily mounting; the "peak" not yet reached but ought to be soon.

MEN'S CLOTHES—Will be higher in the spring; the same is true of hats.

WOMEN'S CLOTHES of some sorts will follow. Silk wholesalers said there would be a sharp advance next week. Dealers in woolen clothes could see no sign of abatement in costs.

BUTTER AND EGGS—A seasonal drop in the price of butter and eggs is promised to begin within the next month if the weather is mild.

GROCERIES—There will be no material decreases in 1920.

COFFEE AND TEA—Coffee will go up because of the increased demand created by prohibition. Tea may go down a little.

SUGAR—The situation is easing and it ought to sell soon for about 16 cents a pound.

FLOUR—Will remain about the same.

CANNED GOODS—The trend is upward.

MEATS—One of the largest New York packers said there was nothing to indicate any material decrease.

YE TOWN GOSSIP

OF COURSE it's hard.
TO HAVE to pay.
HIGH PRICES.
FOR PRACTICALLY everything.
BUT AS a rule.
THERE'S SOME good excuse.
IN ALMOST every case.
TAKE EGGS.
FOR EXAMPLE.
AND AT first thought.
IT WOULD seem.
ALMOST OUTRAGEOUS.
TO HAVE to pay.
ALMOST TEN cents.
FOR AN egg.
BUT WHEN you stop.
AND CONSIDER.
THAT AN egg represents.
A HEN'S work.
FOR A day.
IT SEEMS mighty cheap.
AND FURTHERMORE.
I'M WILLING to bet.
THAT YOU can't find.
A SINGLE chicken.
IN THE CITY of Ada.

WHO WOULD be willing.
TO WORK all day.
FOR TEN cents.
BUT AFTER all.
PRICES IS prices.
AND THAT'S the reason.
WHY IT is considered.
AN OSTENTATIOUS display.
OF WEALTH for a man.
TO GO down the street.
ON A morning.
WITH EGG stains.
ON THE front.
OF HIS shirt.
AND IT would seem.
THAT THE only chance.
THAT WE have.
FOR MAKING prices.
GO DOWN.
IS TO make the hens.
LAY TWO or three eggs.
EACH DAY.
AND EVERYBODY else.
IS WORKING extra.
SO WHY shouldn't they.
I THANK you.

POLITICAL SURVEY OF OKLA. TODAY

FUTURE FRAUGHT WITH MANY POSSIBILITIES—MANY CHANGES DUE AT THE NEXT ELECTION.

Special to the News:
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 8.—Politics in Oklahoma in 1920 offers many interesting contests. Both parties are rapidly getting in shape for the big fight of the summer and with few exceptions interesting struggles for party nominations are materializing for every office to be filled this year.

With Senator Robert L. Owen actively in the race for the democratic nomination for the presidency, a three cornered fight for the nomination for United States senator on the democratic ticket, a battle royal for the republican nomination for national committeeman, there is sufficient interest to provide material for columns of gossip.

In addition to the presidential and senatorial nominations Oklahoma will elect eight congressmen, three members of the state supreme court and one member of the criminal court of appeals.

In the first congressional district there has thus far been no mention of opposition to E. B. Howard, democrat, within his own party, and the same is true of W. W. Hastings, democrat, who represents the second district. Charles D. Carter of the third district may have opposition in the person of J. B. Fleming of Poteau, member of the state senate, but there are few who believe that Carter will have any considerable difficulty in securing a place on the ticket. J. T. McIntosh of Durant, also a member of the state senate, has been spoken of, but recently declared emphatically that he will not be a candidate.

In the fifth district J. W. Harrell, republican, of Oklahoma City, was elected at a special election in November to succeed the late Joseph B. Thompson of Pauls Valley. Rumor has it that Harrell is listening intently to the siren's voice and may conclude to become a candidate for the nomination for United States senator; if this prove untrue he is likely to be a candidate to succeed himself. In fact, few believe that Harrell will let go of his congressional seat until he has been ousted by someone who gets more votes than he does next November. Among the democrats there is a flock of aspirants, as there was in the special primary in October. The announcement of Judge P. B. Swank of Norman, coupled with the statement that he will have no opposition in his judicial district, eliminates several who had been counted as possibilities. Jop Knight of Wynnewood and Henry H. Carr of Pauls Valley filed for the special primary, although Carr withdrew to manage the campaign of Claude Weaver who was nominated but defeated by Harrell. W. H. Woods of Purcell, E. E. Glasco, also a Purcell resident, and a member of the state house of representatives, are among those who live in Swank's district. Dr. Charles Evans, E. J. Giddings and William Franklin, the latter clerk of the state supreme court, and all residents of Oklahoma City, are avowedly candidates to succeed Harrell.

In the sixth district Congressman Ferris, who with Attorney General Freeling is out to wrest the senatorial toga from Gore, leaves the congressional district to another flock of aspirants. State Senator J. Elmer Thomas of Lawton and District Judge Cham Jones of Waurika are

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Ada News.

missioner W. D. Humphreys of Nowata, resigned, will be a candidate for re-election. It is said that Fred Parkinson, state examiner and inspector, aspires to this honor.

The terms of all district judges in the state expire in 1922. All members of the house of representatives are elected for a term of two years and these terms expire with the close of 1920. The terms of the following state senators expire Jan. 1, 1921, and their successors are to be chosen at the August primary and November general election this year: Democrats: Arthur Leach, Sayre; G. L. Wilson, Mangum; R. L. Knie, Cordell; R. L. Hall, Pawhuska; T. B. Hogg, Shawnee; Warren K. Snyder, Oklahoma City; Frank Carpenter, Bridgeport; J. Elmer Thomas, Lawton; Fred E. Tucker, Ardmore; Jop Knight, Wynnewood; J. T. McIntosh, Durant; C. W. Board, Okemah; W. C. McAllister, Hugo; John S. Vaughn, Kingston; Eugene M. Kerr, Muskogee; T. L. Rider, Stilwell; J. J. Smith, Afton; and S. L. Johnson, Okmulgee. Republicans: Eugene Watrous, Enid; Tom Testerman, Morrison; John Golobie, Guthrie; H. Brown, Watonga.

Unless he should resign in order to devote all this time to the senatorial contest, the term of S. P. Freeling, attorney general, does not expire until 1922 and it is not considered likely that he will step out at least until after the primary, but two announcements of candidates for the democratic nomination for attorney general have been made. They are by State Senator E. P. Hill of McAlester, and Earl Foster of Sapulpa, formerly county attorney of Creek county.

The Basketball Season in Full Swing Everywhere Now

By the Associated Press
AMES, Iowa, Jan. 9.—On the basketball court at the Iowa State College at Ames tonight will be fought out the first phase of the campaign for the 1920 basketball title of the Missouri Valley conference. The Tigers of the University of Missouri will meet the Iowa Aggies in the first contest of a 2-game series.

Basketball fans have been reticent as to the strength of the various valley teams, preferring to await the results of the first few encounters. The power of the 1919 Missouri football machine, however, is being pointed to as an indication of what may be expected of after-the-war athletic teams of that institution.

The conference season will be in full swing the latter part of this month. Six teams will clash the night of January 16 and again the next night. This follows the valley practice of playing 2-game series in basketball. These games are: Washington University vs. Missouri at St. Louis; Ames vs. Kansas University at Lawrence; the Kansas Aggies vs. Grinnell at Manhattan.

The University of Oklahoma will receive its official "baptism of fire" in Missouri Valley conference athletics in the basketball season. The institution was voted into the conference at the meeting of the board of directors here in December. The Sooners, however, for several years have scheduled games with valley conference teams, and the Oklahoma brand of sport is not unheralded.

The conference now is composed of the following institutions: Drake, Grinnell College, Iowa State College, Kansas Aggies, Kansas University, Missouri University, Oklahoma University and Washington University.

Tarwater to Trial For the Murder of A Missouri Editor

By the Associated Press
GALLATIN, Mo., Jan. 9.—Hugh Y. Tarwater, city clerk, charged with the slaying of Wesley L. Robertson, veteran editor of the Gallatin Democrat, will be given a preliminary hearing at Gallatin January 13. Tarwater will be brought here from St. Joseph, where he has been in jail since Robertson was killed.

Wesley L. Robertson, 70 years old, and widely known in Northwest Missouri, was shot and killed in the back office of his newspaper establishment December 23, 1919, following an argument with Tarwater. Tarwater will be brought here from St. Joseph, where he has been in jail since Robertson was killed.

water does not deny the shooting, but said it was not his intention to kill anyone, and intimating, soon afterward, that he had acted in self defense. There had been bitter feeling between the two men for some time prior to the tragedy. Tarwater had brought suit against the Democrat, charging libel, and the case is still pending. The two men belonged to opposing factions of the democratic party in the third Missouri congressional district.

Tarwater is 52 years old and married. He was city clerk of Gallatin at the time the shooting occurred, and had been active as a Sunday School teacher.

Liberty.

The Liberty today is showing a Universal special attraction called "The Trembling Hour." It is a story picturizing the question of whether a prison term reforms a criminal and sends him forth with a determination to lead a straight life, or whether it embitters him permanently toward society. The convict in this picture "reformed." Special music playing the picture at both matinee and night performances is an added feature to the Liberty's program. Henry Roquemore's Musical show, which has pleased Ada people before, is booked for next week and every theatergoer in the city knows it to be a show of quality.

The American.

The American theater has no advertising to indicate what their program for tonight will be, but they always have a good show and you will get your money's worth, no doubt, if you drop in.

TWELVE NEGROES TO BE EXECUTED IN ARKANSAS

By the Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 9.—Warrants for the execution of twelve negroes under death sentences for murder alleged to have been committed during the negro insurrection in Phillips County, Ark., were issued in the supreme court today following the filing of an appeal from the lower court's decision by attorneys for the negroes.

"Thank You."

I desire to thank the sweetheart who in yesterday's News nominated me for queen of the Carnival. I would thank him also in a private way, but I have so many sweethearts I am at a loss to know which one nominated me. This will inform my friends that I am now in the race to the finish and I promise to make all other candidates hustle.

Very truly,
"BILL" ZORN.

Society Officers Meet.

The officers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist church, met in an executive meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. McKelvey. Many helpful plans and suggestions were presented by our President, Mrs. McKelvey, which were freely discussed and which will be offered to the society Monday afternoon for further discussion and if satisfactory, for adoption. On account of inclement weather of last Monday and the illness of our president, the installation of officers was postponed until Monday, January 12. All members are urged to be present and visitors always welcome.—Superintendent Publicity.

PROFESSOR PERKINS WILL SPEAK AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Professor M. L. Perkins, vice-president of the College, will occupy the pulpit of the Christian church Sunday morning. Professor Perkins has just returned from a great gathering in Des Moines, Iowa. It was a gathering largely of young people, numbering about eight thousand. The professor says it was the greatest thing he ever got into. The gathering lasted five days. Among the men of national reputation who were present were Sherwood Eddy and John R. Mott. Both of these men were in vital touch with the war. The term "enthusiasm" poorly describes the feelings of the professor since his return. His message Sunday morning promises to be a very interesting and inspiring one. The public as well as the members of the church are cordially invited to hear him.

Ambassador Joseph E. Willard (above) and Admiral Denton C. Decker.

Joseph E. Willard, U. S. ambassador to Spain, who was recently charged by Admiral Denton C. Decker with having been actively opposed to Admiral Decker's efforts to keep Spain from joining the central empires in 1918, replies that Spain never even remotely contemplated entering the war against the allies. Admiral Decker thinks he kept Spain out of the war and is therefore entitled to the distinguished service medal instead of the navy cross, which has been awarded him.

First Baptist Annual Reports.

The weather being so extremely bad last Wednesday night the annual reports to be read before the First Baptist Church, were held over until Sunday morning, when they will be read before the entire congregation. These reports will be the best ever read in the history of the church, and every member is urged to be present.

We will also at this time ratify the election of officers which was held Wednesday night. We sincerely trust that every person elected to a

We could of course take advantage of the situation and mark our Men's underwear according to the higher prices prevailing for Winter.

But we don't do business that way—and the people who know us know it.
